MARSHFIELD

Erle Smith Took a Cold Bath on Saturday.

Erle Smith took a cold bath in the waters of the Winooski river that had gotten into the highway between the two Cabot villages last Saturday. He had floated into the road in such a manner as to throw his horse down, and Erle must needs alight to unhitch. With the ice-water hip high, and arms and hands in the water, too, it is remarkable that serious results did not follow, but George Houghton came to the rescue and kindly assisted the young man to a place where it was possible to continue his journey homeward, after drying and warming him.

Fred Corlies of Glover was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Collins last week.

A. T. Davis and M. E. Beckley were in Peacham two days last week on telephone business.

Ernest Doune is able to work again after laying off several days with blood poison in his wrist and arm.

Gilbert L. Drinell visited his uncle, Rufus Farr, in Northfield last week. Mr. Farr is in very feeble health.

Richard Annas, section boss on the M. & W. R. R., is very ill of pneumonia. Dr. H. S. Carver is attending him.

Anna Mackie has been quite ill at the home of Mrs. Henry Blake, but is reported better. Dr. M. D. Warren attended her.

Mr. and Mrs. James Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Newton were in East Barre and Washington last week; returning home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend were in Barre Saturday and Sunday, called there by the critical illness of Mrs. Townsend's sister, Mrs. Haskins.

The Plainfield dramatic club will present its drama, "Old Ace Folk" in Folsom's hall, next Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Marshfield lodge of Good Templars.

Little Miss Lena Collins, who has been living in the home of her uncle, Clayton Collins, for the last thirteen months, went to Sheffield, Vt., last week, to live with her mother, Mrs. Alphy Brooks.

Friends here of Mrs. Nellie, Winter Haskins of Barre, who has been so critically ill in the home of her brother, G. P. Winter, wish to extend their sympathy to Mrs. Haskins and her friends, in this trying time.

It is understood that Lewis King of Peacham, who has had some trouble in the justice courts for the alleged passing of worthless checks, has not returned to his work in Peacham, for the man who kindly went as his bondsmen. The whereabouts of the man is not known at this writing.

The friends of Charles Darling, who has been confined to his bed for the past twelve weeks, are glad to learn that his physician, Dr. H. S. Carver, pronounces him on the gain. This has been a long pull for both patient and doctor, and much credit is due both for the marked improvement.

Inclement weather hindered the success of Friday evening's entertainment at the church. Those who attended report Rev. Douglas' work exceptionally of little or no value. The plaintiff is represented by Mrs. Jessie L. Rigwood and the defendant company by J. E. Cushman. The plaintiff seeks to recover damages of $300.

LIVE WIRE DAMAGE.
Is Basis for Suit Brought by a Burlington Woman.

Burlington, Feb. 18.—A writ of attachment was served yesterday on the Burlington Light and Power company in favor of Lillian C. Trick, returnable at the city court on the 23 day of March, 1908. The plaintiff claims that on the 19th day of October, 1907, her driver, Michael Hamilton, was driving a horse owned by her, and attached to a motor car, on North Union street, when the animal came in contact with an electric wire that had fallen in an unsafe position in the street, and had been allowed to lie there for 24 hours. The wire was heavily charged with electricity and threw the horse to the ground, stunning and burning it so as to render it permanently of little or no value. The plaintiff is represented by Mrs. Jessie L. Rigwood and the defendant company by J. E. Cushman. The plaintiff seeks to recover damages of $300.

FOUNDED HORSE TO DEATH.
Is Said to Have Been Feature of a Drunken Debauch.

Higgle, Feb. 18.—A drunken debauch, in which a horse was pounded to death Friday, resulted in the arrest of George E. Moore and Herman Perry, both of whom were placed under $300 bonds for appearance in the coming term of county court. Miles Perry, the man accused of killing the horse, escaped into Canada when he learned that officers were on his tracks. The authorities were notified of the row and all but Miles Perry were rounded up before justice. Barre, who fined Moore $5 and costs for a breach of the peace and held him in $300 bonds for furnishing liquor. Herman Perry was fined $5 and costs for a drunk and held in $300 bonds for cruelty to animals.

More than thirty friends of Everett Carpenter assembled at his home Friday evening, intending to give "Brim" a surprise valentine party, but he "tumbled" before the company arrived. Nevertheless, it made the occasion no less enjoyable. A bountiful supper of oysters, cake and coffee was served, and valentines, fruit, flowers, a purse of money and many good wishes were left with Everett to help him remember the kindly feelings of a few of his many friends.

All members of the "Brown School-house club" are requested to remember the annual meeting and social, next Friday evening in Pythian hall. The occasion has always proved a pleasant and profitable affair socially, and the members wish to make this meeting the very best. Will all who have photographs and autographs of both teachers and pupils bring them? The club includes those of the 70's and early 80's, more especially. The banquet will be served by Mrs. Lizzie Spencer Robinson, caterer.

The following officers were recently installed by Clara H. Darling in the local order of Good Templars: lodge deputy, Henry Johnson; chief templar, Morton Briggs; past chief, Frank Brown, Jr.; vice templar, Louella Brown; chaplain, Gertrude Means; financial secretary, Kula Robinson; treasurer, Wesley Hall; secretary, Maudie Beckley; assistant secretary, Ida Brown; marshal, Aaron Hall; deputy marshal, Jessie Drinell; guard, Fred Brown; sentinel, Arthur Gilman. The lodge has taken in eleven new members in the last quarter, and also boasts six young men from one family, all bona fide Good Templars.

SHOT HIMSELF.
Dr. Charles H. Stadlinger of Buffalo, N. Y., Prominent Dentist.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Dr. Charles H. Stadlinger of No. 169 North Pearl street shot himself in his left lower leg night. Ill health and nervousness given as the cause.

Dr. Stadlinger was one of Buffalo's most prominent dentists. He came here from New York 12 years ago. He was a nephew of Dr. Henry E. Stadlinger, a physician of No. 1 North Pearl street, and Dr. P. A. Stadlinger, a dentist of No. 2 Pearl street.

Brattleboro Man Sues Electric Company Alleging Negligence.

Brattleboro, Feb. 18.—Charles W. Wetherby brought suit yesterday against the Twin State gas and electric company of this town to recover $10,000 damages for the death of his son, George Wetherby, who was killed Aug. 25, by coming in contact with live wires on the West river railroad bridge. The boy was 12 years old. The wires which he touched are fastened to arms on the side of the Central Vermont railroad bridge across West river, just north of this village, and convey electricity from the power plant in West Dummerston to Brattleboro. The bridge is not used for highway travel, but Mr. Wetherby alleges that for more than 15 years men, women and children have been allowed to cross the bridge. He also alleges that the insulation on the wires was rotten and worn off in places, that the boy was exercising due care at the time of his death.
